

MSU African Studies Center
Eye on Africa Speakers for Spring 2017

Time: 12:00 - 1:30 p.m.

Location: Room 201 International Center

427 N Shaw Lane, East Lansing, MI 48824

Ph: 517-353-1700

(Also found at URL: <http://www.Africa.isp.msu.edu>)

Date	Name	Affiliation	Topic
01/12	Pedram Khosronejad	School of International Studies/School of Media & Strategic Communications Oklahoma State University	“African Slavery in Iran, Photography, Anthropology: An Interdisciplinary Approach”
Wed. 01/18	Aylin Basaran	Lecturer, PhD student (Visiting scholar, MSU History) Vienna Univ. Dept. of Contemporary History	Documentary: Wed. Jan. 18, 5-7pm Rm 303 ISP “Film Production in Tanzania after Independence”
01/19	Aylin Basaran	Same as Above	Talk: “Film Production in Tanzania after Independence”
01/26	Amber Pearson and Amanda Rzotkiewicz	MSU Geography	Time moved: 11:00-12:30 “Participatory mapping of environmental resources: A comparison of a Tanzanian pastoral community over time”
02/2	Bobby Peek	M.A. candidate at University of kwaZulu-Natal and received an honorary PhD from the Durban University of Technology	“A Re-emerging of the Environmental Justice Movement in South Africa - Building on Climate and Energy Justice”
02/9	Emily Riley	PhD in Anthropology from Michigan State University-- Visiting Assistant Professor for the Department of Anthropology at Michigan State University	“Corruption Discourses and Women and Politics in Africa: The Case of the Female Politicians of the Gender Equality Movement in Senegal”
02/23	Emmanuel Akyeampong	Director of the Center for African Studies at Harvard University	“Religion, Culture, the Arts and the Making of the African Nation-State”
03/2	Joseph Bangura	PhD in African History and is Associate Professor and Chair of History at Kalamazoo College	“African Agency in the Making of a British Colony: A Microhistorical Analysis”
03/16	Kenda Mutongi	Williams College	History
Wed. 03/22	Steve Esquith	Professor of philosophy and Dean of the Residential College in the Arts and Humanities at Michigan State University	“Peace Building in Mali”
Tues. 03/28	Janie Cole	University of Cape Town	Music
04/6	Masako Fujita and Sabrina Perlman	MSU Anthropology	Medical Anthro.
04/13	Camelia Suleiman	Assistant Professor of Arabic Studies, Department of Linguistics and Languages. Ph.D. in Linguistics, Georgetown University	“Arabic between the Anglophone and Francophone Spheres”

Tues. 04/18	Jeremy Prestholdt	Univ. of San Diego	History
04/27	Rachel Elbin	MSU Anthropology	Research in Tanzania