Photography & the Politics of Cultural Appropriation: Perspectives from Mali
Round Table Panel Discussion
October 25 at 4 p.m.
MSU Museum Entry Hall

Guest Panelists:
Youssouf Sakaly, AMP Project Manager in Bamako, son of Abdourahmane Sakaly
Malick Sitou, Photographer and son of Tijani Sitou
The West African country of Mali has long been home to a creative community of photographers, many based in urban studios. This exhibition explores five exemplary practitioners of the art of photography-Mamadou Cissé, Adama Kouyaté, Abdourahmane Sakaly, Malick Sidibé, and Tijani Sitou spanning the period from the 1940s to the 1990s. Their works document the region's transition from colonial French West Africa to the independent nation state of Mali, featuring portraits taken within and outside the studio, as well as cultural events and transcultural trends.

Join us afterwards for the reception at 6pm.

OTHER ANNOUNCEMENTS

"In Conversation with Novelist Fartumo Kusow
Moderated by Kenneth W. Harrow, Distinguished Professor & Yasmina Bouraoui
Wednesday, November 1, 2017: 6:30-8:30 PM
East Lansing Public Library, 950 Abbot Rd., East Lansing, MI 48823

Book signing after the talk. Copies will be available for sale at the library ($20) from October 11th.

Book Title: Tale of a Boon's Wife
The Author: Fartumo Kusow

Summary of the Book:
A young Somali woman defies convention and clan to marry the man she loves, but must face the consequences. Despite her family’s threat to disown her, Idil, a young Somali woman, rejects her high Bliss status to marry Sidow, a poor Boon man. Her decision transforms her life, forcing her to face harsh and sometimes even deadly consequences for her defiance of a strict tribal hierarchy. Set in the fifteen-year period before Somalia's 1991 Civil War, Idil's journey is almost too hard to bear at times. Her determination to follow her heart and to pursue love over family and convention is a story that has been told across time and across cultures.

About the Author:
Born in Somalia, Fartumo Kusow immigrated to Canada at the start of the civil war. Her first novel, Amran, was serialized in October Star, Mogadishu: Somali National Press in 1984. Since her arrival in Canada in 1991 she has earned a B. Arts Honours in English Language and Literature and B. Education from the University of Windsor. She now teaches English literature courses for the Greater Essex County District School Board. A mother of five adult children, she lives in Windsor, Ontario. For More info, see the poster here.
We want to feature you (students, faculty, alumni) on our website and across our social media platforms. Please keep us informed at mavimabl@msu.edu.
