African Postdoctoral Training Initiative (APTI)

The African Postdoctoral Training Initiative (APTI) is currently soliciting applications for a second cohort of fellows, with applications due December 1, 2019. APTI is supported by the African Academy of Sciences (AAS), the U.S. National Institutes of Health (NIH), and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation to promote the training of early-career African scientists in the field of biomedical research.

Please visit to the Postdoctoral Training Opportunity Website for more information about the program and application process.

Apply before December 1st, 2019.

FLAS Scholarship

Fellowships for graduate and undergraduate studies in African languages and area studies are available through the African Studies Center, provided by a grant from the U.S. Department of Education. They are designed for American (or permanent resident) students who plan to utilize a modern foreign language in their future careers.

FLAS Fellowships provide academic year undergraduates with $10,000 towards tuition and fees, and a stipend of $5,000. For graduate students, FLAS Fellowships provide $18,000 toward tuition and fees for the academic year, and $15,000 in stipends. Summer FLAS recipients receive $5,000 in tuition and a $2,000 stipend.

Application deadline: February 14th, 2020
